ORGANIZERS

CALL FOR SPONSORS AND EXHIBITORS

The Organizing Committee of the International Geoscience and Remote Sensing Symposium 2019 (IGARSS 2019) would like to offer sponsorship programs for related industries and organizations. The Symposium and an exhibition being held simultaneously are the international events where participants can overview the latest research findings in the field of the geoscience, remote sensing and related topics. We believe that it will be a perfect opportunity for you in enhancing your company profiles, disseminating fresh information, and further promoting your products and services, to the professionals from across the world.

We would appreciate for your support and cooperation in order to make the IGARSS 2019 successful.
